

YOUR DESIRE IS YOUR DIVINE CALLING

- By Sue Maisano, PhD

*Where is your desire coming from?
Do you dare to answer your desires?
Or are you sabotaging your desires by putting off taking actions required for its achievement?*

In this lesson, you will understand why you need to answer your desire and how to overcome fear so you can take action towards achieving your desires!

Your desire is your divine calling.

“You are what your deepest desire is. As is your desire, so is your intention. As is your intention, so is your will. As is your will, so is your deed. As is your deed, so is your destiny.” — Upanishads

Desire is a message from your soul to your personality. Your soul makes the calling to the human part of you in the form of a desire. A desire is a divine message.

It is a clear cry from deep inside you to achieve something greater, something that's meant to be!

*You were born with potential.
You were born with goodness and trust.*

*You were born with ideals and dreams.
You were born with greatness.
You were born with wings.
You were not meant for crawling, so don't.
You have wings.
Learn to use them and fly.*

- Rumi

If you have the desire to do something, that means you have the ability to do it. The Universe is literally pulling you into your purpose by you following your desires!

*Want to quit your 9-5 job and create a business fueled by your passion?
That's your soul's calling for abundance and self-worthiness.*

*Want to attract the ideal soulmate with harmonious relationship?
That's your soul's calling for intimacy, companionship and love.*

*Want to move to a new place, new country, make a drastic change?
That's your soul's calling for new adventure and expansion into new life experiences.*

Your desire is a sacred message from your soul.

But,
*Are you listening to the whisper of your desires?
Are you pursuing your desires with faithful actions?
Or are you allowing fear to crush you and not getting into motion?
Are you choosing your comfort zone and status quo instead of taking massive actions?*

Too many people are crushed by fear that they bury their desires, or they will say I will do it someday. The truth is, someday never comes, that's why the graveyard is the richest place on earth.

Back in 2004, I had a desire. A desire to get out of China and come to America for higher education.

I wasn't in any position to do that.

I was just a naïve girl growing up as a farmer and my mom suffered from depression and suicidal thoughts while my dad was an elementary school dropout working on random construction jobs. Tuition was always borrowed; it was embarrassing. I was pretty much confined to 10 miles radius from home or college; I had never been anywhere!

Because of the environment I was born into and raised, plus the cultural norms of prejudice against girls in China at that time, I wasn't expected of anything, and I didn't know much either.

Suddenly in college I had this burning desire to go abroad and pursue PhD studies. A poor village girl with mediocre college scores had a bold dream.

I didn't even know how to type on a computer or how to send an email! I was ridiculed. As I said I was not in any position to answer the calling of the desire and I meant it, but somehow the desire found me. It started small but I followed it relentlessly.

A desire is a divine message from your SOUL!

The book The Alchemist said it perfectly, "When you want something, all the universe conspires in helping you to achieve it." and that's exactly what happened to me.

Looking back, it seems like a fiction, so surreal, so unlikely, yet it indeed happened, otherwise I wouldn't be writing this message to you.

What happened for me was I took action with unwavering faith and two weeks after I contacted a US professor, she happened to go on a business trip to China, to my city, where I got this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to be interviewed face to face.

The rest was history.

It wasn't an easy journey, but every step along the way someone, or something helped me in achieving this seemingly impossible dream. People were aligned, events created, and coincidences appeared, the whole Universe went into working to make my desire a reality.

I share with you my personal story to tell you that there's a reason why you have the desire that you have, no matter how unlikely it seems right now. Take massive courageous actions with faith towards your wildest dream, and you are meant to achieve it!

You are being called into your purpose!
So why wouldn't you be able to achieve your desire?

You are meant to achieve your desires, otherwise it wouldn't be there in the first place! You are meant for great things if you follow your desires courageously!

Answering your desires and carrying out the actions is answering the divine calling.

Your future self, the consciousness of you that's not confined by time and space, the part of invisible you that's already where you want to be, is calling out to you and urging you, do this! Follow your desires!

Your desire is your future self calling you into action! You are sure to succeed when you follow your true heart desires! It is what meant to be!!

The entire Universe is cheering you on! The entire Universe has your back! The Universe wants you to follow the blueprint your future self sent to you and achieve your full potential! So do it! Answer your divine calling! That's what you are here to do. It is your life purpose.

What is it that you desire?

What would make you feel ALIVE?

What is it that you are put on earth to do?

What do you need to change to start doing what fulfills you?
